"NICKY" THE DOG NOBODY WANTED

BY BARBARA PLANT

In August, 1986, Eileen Kaplan picked up a rescue dog from the Clipper Animal Shelter in Newburyport, Ma. He was found wandering the center of town. No one claimed him so rescue took him. He was estimated to be around 8 years old (I think he was older).

Since he had no name, Eileen thought "Nicky" would be good because he had a nick in the top of one of his ears.

He had the nicest temperament, so easy going, never did see him run. He would do a fast trot, but that was it.

When I had to put down my last male Elkhound, he became my housedog. He loved my Boston Terriers, especially Vanessa who loved to sit between his front paws and wash his face.

In July I had to put him to sleep. I know his last 5 years were happy ones.

Searching for the perfect audiobook app on my phone got me thinking: What goes into making a good audio book? Do the narrators practice beforehand? Do they only read books they love? I asked Bob Zeida, an 81-year-old from Dartmouth who has, over the course of the last 30 years, recorded some 400 audiobooks and counting.
